STUDENT SCHOLARSHIP NEWSLETTER

To the right are examples of scholarships for 2023 High School graduates you might have missed with deadlines between March and May.

Most scholarships in our newsletters are available yearly, so younger students should start building their lists now.

Freshmen can go to the YPNG.co page and apply through our portal for the Raise Me micro-scholarships, where you earn money each semester through high school that applies to the over 250 participating colleges, including OU.

You will find more help researching scholarships and grants in the College Bound Resources section on the YPNG.co webpage, along with past newsletters that identify scholarships and grants that are not that well known.

February 2023

- The most significant part of most students' financial package comes typically from the college they attend. Make sure you talk to the financial aid office after you get an acceptance letter and get a list of all the scholarships and grants available to see if you can add money to their initial financial aid package if you make a separate grant application. Here are some examples of scholarships listed by the admissions departments at OU and OSU:

<https://www.ou.edu/admissions/affordability/scholarships#resfreshman>
- For people who don't qualify for other TCC scholarships, missed the application deadline, or are not documented, TCC offers the MY Dream Scholarship funded by a private donor. Applications are open from February 13 through May 12. TCC credits can usually be transferred to OSU Tulsa along with the MY Dream scholarship funding so you can complete a four-year degree. Contact Gloria Arias at TCC gloria.arias@tulsacc.edu
- TCC also has many scholarship opportunities in addition to Tulsa Achieves, including specific scholarships for different majors like nursing and engineering funded by private donors:
<https://www.tulsacc.edu/admissions-aid/financial-aid/scholarships>
- The Tulsa County Library has programs to help with college admission applications, scholarship search engines, help with essays, and college ACT and SAT prep free for area students. TPS students can normally access the library using their school id. www.tulsalibrary.org/programs-and-services/adults

Single Parent Scholarships from the Custody Exchange Giving Fund

Quarterly Deadlines

The Custody X Change Giving Fund awards three scholarships worldwide to single parents each year for undergraduate study.

How to Apply

mail scholarships@custodyxchange.com with your contact details, and attach the following:

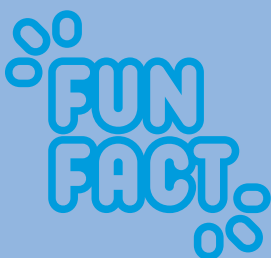

- A 400- to 500-word essay, "How you will you use your education to improve your family?" Please include a brief explanation of your custody arrangement. This must be attached as a PDF file.
- Your unofficial college transcript — or your admissions letter if you're in your first semester. This must either be a PDF file or a picture.

The scholarship application window is open all year; each semester's application window opens right after the previous semester's deadline. The scholarship is available to single-parent students worldwide, regardless of nationality.

Eligibility Requirements

- Have primary physical custody of one or more minor children
- Be enrolled full or part-time as an undergraduate at an accredited college or university
- Have a GPA of 3.0 or higher or be a first-semester student

Term	Amount	Deadline	Awarded By
Spring	$1000	Dec 31	Jan 31
Summer	$500	Apr 30	May 31
Fall	$1000	Aug 31	Sep 30

Daughters of the American Revolution puts you in line for many other scholarships, so it's a great place to start your search.

Scholarship Search Engines

Peterson's college scholarship search was founded in the 1960s. The company offers free online test prep, school searches, career tools, a database of scholarships from 5,000 providers, and the books and services it sells. Their website is free, straightforward, and easy to use. Filling out a very short survey allows you to adjust the filters as you go, giving you more control than sites requiring extensive profiles.

RaiseMe Program

YPNG has become part of a new free scholarship program, RaiseMe, where TPS students can start earning scholarship money as early as 9th grade from micro-scholarships tied to a growing list of 250+ colleges, including OU, KU, Penn State, Wisconsin, UMass, Denison, Tulane and HSBCUs. The participating colleges award these scholarships based on good grades, community service, extracurricular activities, and other individual achievements. The better your grades, the more engaged you are with the Tulsa community and your school, and the more money you will earn. Visit ypng.co to learn more and start earning today!

Single Parent Household

Jennifer Webb-Cook Gameplan Scholarship

Deadline: April 1, 2023, Award: $3,485

Overview: Jennifer died in September 2021 from COVID. In memory of Jennifer Webb-Cook and in honor of the sacrifices she made for her son, the Jennifer Webb-Cook Gameplan Scholarship will support a student-athlete who needs a little extra help off the launching pad! High school seniors who are student-athletes from single-parent households are eligible to apply if they are continuing their athletic careers at the college level. To apply, write about the obstacles you've had to overcome in a single-parent household and how sports have impacted your life.
